

The Marriage of Mr. J. Paul Lyet II, of 2729 Brown Street and Miss Dorothy Lillian Storz, 1531 North Robinson Street.

Saturday, September 29th., Brewerytown had one of the most elaborate weddings we've seen since World War II.

Paul, or J.P., as he is known to most of his friends, attended Bache and Robert Morris public schools. Graduated from old Central High and the University of Penna. Wharton School. He was one of the youngest to ever pass the State Examinations for Certified Public Accountant. After several years with Ernst & Ernst, he is now controller for New Holland Machine Co. of New Holland Penna..

The marriage ceremony took place at 4 o'clock in the Palatinate Reformed Church, Haverford Ave. west of 61st. Street, Phila., of which the bride is a member.

In a lovely setting of flowers and palms, the bride looked gorgeous in heavy white satin. The gown boasted a five foot train and full length veil. The bouquet was white orchids and tiny white roses with little rose buds tied to the white ribbons. Her beautiful auburn hair worn in a long bob shone like gold through her veil.

Mrs. Ivanor Robinson of Long Island, N.Y., sister of the bride, was Matron of Honor and Miss Eleanor Doron, cousin of the groom, was bridesmaid. Both of these girls being blonde looked especially sweet, the former in line and the latter in aqua. Both gowns were trimmed with sequins and both girls wore gold sequin hats.

The mother of the bride wore a flowered gown and feather hair ornament while the groom's mother wore blue taffeta and velvet, a blue taffeta and rhinestone tiara, long pink evening gloves with a corsage of pink orchids from Leins Flower Shoppe, 2831 W. Girard Ave..

The best man was Mr. Charles L. Fortune, affectionately known to J.P.'s many friends in Brewerytown, as Uncle Charlie. He really is J.P.'s uncle although more like brothers. Mr. Fortune is a teacher of mechanical drawing at Stetson Junior High School. He too, lives in Brewerytown.

The head usher was Mr. Alfred Doron another cousin of the groom.

The groom and his attendants wore the formal afternoon cutaway, with dark waistcoat and striped ties. These were later changed for tuxedos for the evening reception.

The church organ was played by Mrs. Jas. Dominick. Many people are familiar with her music studio in Stonehurst and her work at the organ.

The well known Mr. Louis Shenk sang two lovely solos, namely, Through the Years and My heart is the Haven.

The Reverend Mr. Leibig officiated.

Among the many honored guests were all the officials of the New Holland Machine Co. who registered at the Bellevue Stratford for the week-end where the wedding reception was held.

The other out of town guests were too numerous to mention.

From Brewerytown were, Mrs. Louis Salmon, The Kelly family, The Searle family and the Krupa family all close neighbors from Brown Street. The Charlie Devlin Family of Folsom Street; Mr. Louis Mais of the Big Brother Assoc.. Mr. Joseph Marick known as the Mayor of Brown Street and one of Brewerytown's best loved characters. The Shanleys and Breslins and Beizers were also among the neighborhood guests.

The Reception at the Bellevue was held in the North Garden. The music was under the leadership of Mr. Raymond Steen who for many years delighted Philadelphians with his music in the C. M. Bel Brothers Tea Room.

By now J.P. and his bride are well on their way to Canada where we all hope they enjoy a very happy honeymoon.
